WHO BETTER TO TEACH THEM?

A child's faith life is built and nurtured by their parents. Our doctrine holds that the family household is the DOMESTIC CHURCH and that PARENTS are the first catechists of their children.

Parents can turn to The Monitor to refresh their own faith education, stay up to date with news and issues in the Church and find resources to help them teach their children and apply what is learned to real life. Having The Monitor in the family home is a consistent, visible and accessible way for your family to cultivate a sense of Catholic identity.

Every issue brings you:

- Faith Alive – a two-page faith formation resource
- Reflections on Scripture, Christian life, family and Catholic parenting
- Kidz Corner – a child-based faith activity
- Stories and resources for youth and young adults... ....And much more!

SPECIAL $15 YR. FAMILY RATE

As a family with a child enrolled in religious education, at your church or at school, you are entitled to receive a home subscription to The Monitor at the dramatically reduced student/family rate of only $15 per year (regularly $29).

Your subscription also includes a "Green" subscription, designed for families with Internet access. The "Green" edition is a 100% digital replica of The Monitor that is fully searchable and has an archive of nearly one year of back issues. This resource is excellent for students.
